Join us as we celebrate the diversity that is quickly becoming a characteristic of Columbus' growing population. As Columbus emerges into one of the midwest's most diverse cities, Huntington Park is excited to promote activities in which our new citizens are able to show their customs and merchandise from their native countries.

You can expect to see and hear performers from around the world that live in our great city. Authentic merchandise and food will be available from every corner of the world, along with many educational activities for the whole family to participate in and enjoy. There will be a children's area full of fun and learning.

Please join us on this special day. Our park is beautiful and it is our goal to see it always filled with diverse people.

It will only be a great event if you participate, so we anticipate seeing you there to share with us a full day of celebrating what makes our city so special...its diverse people. You are one of them!
